The Succulent Garden

Welcome to The Succulent Garden. We're located in the middle of The Royal Botanic Garden Sydney. Come along to see Australia's largest collection of succulents and cacti from all around the world. Select a succulent to find out more!

The Succulent Garden

Hola! I'm San Pedro, also known as Echinopsis pachanoi. I come from the Andes Mountains in South America, which has a very high altitude and heavy rainfall. This means I can withstand temperatures far below that of many other cacti!
